AN AGED MAN HAS FATAL FALL

While Hauling Ties on Wheelbarrow John Stolberg Stumbles and Strikes His Head.

Peculiar Accident Brings Death to a Rapid Transit Faithful Employee.

A fall which he received when a wheelbarrow loaded with railroad ties rolled down an embankment is believed to have caused the death of John Stolberg, aged 71 years, near the corner of Eleventh street and Washington avenue about 7 o'clock last evening.

The aged man struck his head against the metal frame of the wheelbarrow, fracturing the bone of the nose, but death is believed to have resulted from internal injuries.

The man was found by the Rapid Transit company on track construction work last evening after coming home from work he went over to Washington avenue for a load of old ties which had been given to him by the foreman.

With a number of ties loaded on the wheelbarrow Stolberg started for home, and had proceeded as far as Eleventh street when, in the dusk of the evening, the wheelbarrow ran off the path and down the embankment for a distance of about three feet. It is supposed that this caused the deceased to pitch forward, and in falling he struck his head and sustained the internal injuries which resulted in his death.

Mr. Savage found Stolberg lying near the overturned wheelbarrow, with blood flowing from his nose and mouth. Realizing that the man had been badly injured, he summoned a physician and then notified the police department. When the physician arrived he pronounced the man dead.

Before the body had been removed from the scene of the accident a coroner-in-law of the deceased, Andrew Anderson, arrived in search of his relative, the family having become alarmed when he did not return to his home. The sad news was then conveyed to the waiting wife and daughter at home.

The body was removed to Lindquist's undertaking parlors. It is not probable that an inquest will be necessary.

The deceased celebrated his 71st birthday anniversary yesterday. Although well advanced in years, he was a man of exceptionally large stature, weighing more than 225 pounds, and this fact may have some bearing on the fatal results of the fall he received.

Stolberg was a native of Sweden, coming to this country about seven years ago. Since coming to Ogden he had been employed both by the city and the street car company.

In addition to the wife he is survived by three daughters and two sons; two daughters residing in Ogden, one son and one daughter in Salt Lake, and one son in Norway.

There is little danger from a cold or from an attack of the grip except when followed by pneumonia, and this never happens when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is used. This remedy has won its great reputation and extensive sale by its remarkable cures of colds and grip, and can be relied upon with implicit confidence. For sale by all dealers.

Coke IS the Fuel-- Try It!

I want the people of Ogden to know that the gas house coke is the nicest and cheapest fuel you can buy at $4.50 per ton. It will burn in your furnace longer without attention than coal. Do not try to burn large lumps in a small stove, break them and the coke will lay close and not go out when only a small fire is needed.

Coke does not stop up the flues, there being no soot or smoke when burning. Coke, like gas, is the ideal fuel. Becker Brewing & Malting Co., Shupe-Williams Candy Co., bakeries and blacksmiths are all using coke. If you have never used it you may hesitate, and delay that which is to your advantage. We will send an expert to teach you how to use it free of charge. Be sure and shut off the draught as much as possible after you start your fire, as coke burns hot with but little draught. You can mix your slack coal with it, which makes the fire more lasting and uniform.

CALL OFF MEET OF AVIATORS

San Francisco Committee Decides Not to Hold Flights in That City.

BIRD MEN'S DEMANDS WERE TOO EXORBITANT

Aviators Accept Proposition After the Californians Give Up Idea of Meet.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 5.—With $122,000 actually subscribed for a big aviation meet in San Francisco from November 27 to December 4, the executive committee having the matter in charge, unexpectedly declared all negotiations off with the aviators in the act this afternoon and decided not to hold the meet. The reason assigned by the committee was the uncertain attitude of the aviators themselves and the exorbitant demands and threatening stand taken by several persons who claimed they had promoted the affair and while unable to pull it off, yet demanded a sum of money to waive and while they laid claim. A few minutes after the committee had taken this action and adjourned a telegram was received from Israel Ludlow, president of the Aero Club of America, stating that the aviators were now willing to come to San Francisco without any other guarantee than that of expenses if sufficient prizes were hung up for them to compete for.

"ROUGH HOUSE" BOYS IN JAIL

Try to Run a Cafe But Meet With a Sad Disappointment.

Two men, believed to be well known residents of Brigham City, were arrested in a cafe last evening for being drunk and starting a general rough house.

The men gave their names as William Connelly and M. J. Sullivan, but the police are inclined to doubt the correctness of this identification.

The men are said to have been under the influence of liquor when they entered the cafe, after which they drank the contents of a pint bottle of whiskey. When the proprietor remonstrated with the men for their loud and boisterous talk they started to "rough it."

Detective Pender and Captain Brown placed the men under arrest and they were locked up.

Both men were well dressed, and among their possessions were found literature tickets from Brigham to Salt Lake. They will probably be held until Monday morning.

Mr. Otto Paul, Milwaukee, Wis., says Foley's Honey and Tar is still more than the best. He writes us, "All those that thought it thick it is the best for coughs and colds they ever had and I think it is still more than the best. Our baby had a bad cold and it cured him in one day. BLANCHE WALSH AT THE ORPHEUM

Miss Blanche Walsh, who will be seen at this theater in a limited engagement of "The Other Woman," for one night only, Thursday Nov. 10th is acknowledged the leading emotional actress of this country. Miss Walsh has in "The Other Woman" the strongest role of her successful career. The play is the work of that well-known machine writer, Frederic Arnold Kummer.

Following are a few epigrams from "The Other Woman."

"Men do not always show their love, to their wives."

"I ask nothing of the man I love. Not even himself. It is his happiness I want—not mine."

"A wife has got to be more than good to hold her husband."

"Why let a little thing like a wife stand in the way?"

"Because a woman loves a married man. It does not follow she is a bad woman."

"Just because you're been divorced twice, you needn't think everybody else has got the habit."

"Lots of women talk about love, are really looking for a good ticket."

"You've missed the great thing in life to keep one out of trouble—I prefer common sense—it's safer."

"To be a successful wife, takes intelligence, thought, work. It's the most difficult profession in the world."

"What does marriage mean to you? You've missed the greatest thing in life, just because you are too selfish to pay the price."

"Marriage is a test by fire. If you are not equal to it, you lose, and no law can make it anything different."

"You think because a man has made his wife all you have to do is to sit around and be supported."

"My wife doesn't want the truth—she's one of those women who make men liars."

"It takes more than one woman to come between a man and his wife—the wife must have left the room."

"Don't forget that it is not the marriage service says you are—it is really what you are that counts."

"It is easy enough to talk about breaking up a home when it is only an abstract idea, but when you come to see what it means—it's almost like murder."

"You may talk about the question of love and marriage till you are blue in the face, but when you run up against the question of children, your arguments aren't worth a snap of your fingers."

JUNK BUYERS VICTIMIZE BOSS

Go Out to Bug Goods but Disappear With Horse, Wagon and Money.

Abraham Siner Reports Loss of Property and Coin to the Police.

Fearing that they have been victimized to the extent of a horse and wagon and a considerable sum of money, Abraham Siner, proprietor of a second-hand store at 175 Twenty-fifth street, and a friend engaged in the same business, have appealed to the sheriff's office in an effort to apprehend two men who they sent out last Monday to buy junk in the country districts.

The junk buyers had not been heard from during the past week and should have returned to this city last night. At a late hour they had failed to put in an appearance and the financiers of the expedition were sufficiently alarmed as to appeal to the officers. The men who accompanied Siner, had made an expedition the week previous and returned with a cargo of junk one week ago last night. On last Monday the men, one of whom is said to be 70 years old, were equipped with a horse and wagon, and started out on another week's pilgrimage.

To further facilitate their work Siner gave one of the men $40 in cash and his partner is said to have supplied a similar amount. The junk buyers left the city and that is the last that has been seen of them up to a late hour last night. Siner fears that the men sold the horse and wagon and decamped with the proceeds, together with their $80 cash basis. If this is the case there is a small chance of apprehending them in view of the fact that they now have a week's start on the officers.

THE ORPHEUM IS THE PLACE TONIGHT'S BILL WILL PLEASE YOU

"All Orpheum shows are good—some are better than others, but no mistake is made when one visits the Orpheum."

The management of the Orpheum claims the above has been attested in every sense of the word by the thousands of delighted patrons who have attended the Orpheum every week this season. Tomorrow's bill has the promise of being even better than the best, no expense being spared this season to entertain Orpheum patrons. Just glance over the new bill and see if you won't like it.

Dinkelspiel's Christmas.

"Dinkelspiel's Christmas," a dramatic version of one of George Horatio's famous Dinkelspiel stories, arranged by the author himself, will be the headline feature of next week's Orpheum bill. It was originally produced at a Lamb's Club Gambol in New York, where it proved a tremendous success. The play is a human interest, the lines, situations and complications being indescribably funny and the characters naturally and cleverly limned. The home of a kindly old German and his Frau is shown. It is Christmas Eve, the pair are anxious to bring the arrival of their son Louis, who is a salesman and whom they haven't seen for two years. They are planning to have him marry Lena, who has been his sweetheart ever since they went to school together. Dinkelspiel has even gone so far as to secure a license for the marriage.

The Waterbury Bros. & Tenny. The Waterbury Bros. & Tenny are probably the most popular musical trio in vaudeville today and their appearance next week at the Orpheum is sure to be cordially welcomed. They have recently been among the chief hits of Cohan and Harris' Honey Boy Minstrels and their act at vaudeville has resulted in a repetition of former triumphs on the Orpheum circuit. Their entire repertoire of musical numbers are new and original and their comedy brighter than ever.

The Five Alphs.

The word "Novelty" means something when it is applied to the Five Alphs, hoop jugglers and rollers. As the curtain rises scores of brilliantly colored rollers are shown on the stage, and the entire troupe set down to its juggling without an instant's delay, passing from one brilliant feat to another with spirit and adroitness, keeping things humming all the time. As a finish all the members of the troupe keep the air filled with the brilliantly colored, flying hoops. The act is one that cannot fail to make an impression when it appears.

Jeanette Adler and Her Picks.

Jeanette Adler and Her Picks will provide a lively and attractive offering of character songs and funny dancing numbers. Jeanette, who is a sister to Flo Adler, the well-known vaudeville artist, possesses the same charming personality and natural talent and for her own vaudeville appearance she has selected a quartette of "Dancing Pickaninies," who enliven the act and give it a comical, quaint and interesting touch.

Hyman Meyer. "The Man at the Piano," is a protégé of Martin Beck and appears exclusively at Apollo under his direction. Mr. Meyer presents one of the most novel and artistic acts in vaudeville, giving what might be called a musical monologue, giving selections from grand opera. All of these things have been attempted before, but never rendered in the way Mr. Meyer accom-

SEARCHING FOR RUNAWAY BOY

Mine Owner's Young Son Being Sought After by Anxious Relatives.

Clare Felt Did Not Like Schools—Leaves Salt Lake Home.

BOYS STOLE BOTTLES FROM PICKLE WORKS

Stealing bottles in wholesale quantities from the plant of the Rose Preserving company at 2454 Wall avenue is the charge placed against half a dozen boys, ranging in age from 14 to 16 years, who were arrested by the police yesterday.

The boys are said to have broken open a door leading to the company's store room, after which they stole several sacks of bottles, aggregating in all about 20 dozen.

As the bottles are the same as those used in bottling beer, the boys attempted to sell the stolen goods at a saloon on Wall avenue, and this resulted in their arrest.

The parents of the lads appeared at police headquarters and agreed to produce the boys in the juvenile court Monday.
